Ignite Your Brand. Fire Up Your Marketing.

Whether it's a giant banner designed to drive traffic to your door, or a direct mail piece that needs to drive prospects online, it's all about heating up your bottom line. And nobody does that better than Clark and Riggs.

We start with extraordinary traditional printing with every option — trending finishes, precision bindery and more. But that's just the beginning, There's digital printing with eye-popping color when time is tight or your numbers are low. Next-generation options like augmented reality, variable data and web-to-print. Brilliant large format printing up to 8' wide — on surfaces as thick as 2". Laser die-cutting. Warehousing and fulfillment. And much more. All with exceptional execution. All delivered on time.

CLARK + RIGGS

Looking to enjoy the spring weather? You've got plenty of options in and around Louisville. Red River Gorge is a popular spot for hiking, camping, picnicking, climbing and more! If you're a bit more daring, you can also book a zipline tour, which takes you across multiple ziplines 300 feet above the Gorge at speeds up to 55 mph.

Another great option is Bernheim Arboretum and Research Forest, which offers so much more than just hiking. You can stop in the Education Center to view the art gallery and to watch birds and small mammals interact in their natural habitat. Food grown in the Edible Garden is used in the on site café, so be sure to grab a snack! If heights don't scare you, you can climb up the 961 feet to the top of the fire tower for one of the best views in the state, and the Canopy Tree Walk extends into the forest canopy 75 feet above the forest floor.

Red River Gorge

USA Today ranked Louisville as the 2nd best local food scene in 2015, and we strive to maintain that reputation. Looking for breakfast? Try Eggs Over Frankfort where they don't just have a wide variety, but they also make their own jam. For coffee you can't beat Please & Thank You, and be sure to try the chocolate chip cookies. El Taco Luchador has killer tacos, especially the fish tacos, and has multiple locations. Wicks Pizza Parlor & Pub is widely regarded as the best local pizza. If you're craving a burger, Grind is not only popular with meat-eaters, but it has an amazing veggie burger, too. Vegans will find delicious options at Morels Café. Those looking for farm-to-table should check out Harvest, where the chef will come out and talk to you about the food and where it's sourced.

Is an underground adventure more your thing? Mammoth Cave has you covered! This national park is the world's longest known cave system, spanning more than 400 miles. There are tons of tour options, so you can pick the experience that you want. Whether you prefer the short introductory tour, the historic tour that allows you to descend into deeper levels, or the much more extensive grand avenue tour, you're sure to find an option that caters to your needs.

FEATURING:

- 6 ZIPLINES
- 2 CHALLENGE BRIDGES
- 2 DUAL RACING

WORLD'S ONLY ALL UNDERGROUND ZIPLINES AND ADVENTURE TOUR!

OPEN YEAR ROUND!

Hottest extreme sport in Europe

If you prefer something a little closer, look no further than Louisville Mega Cavern. Don't feel like walking? Try the Mega Tram for a comfortable ride with a helpful tour guide. For the more adventurous, the Mega Zips tour takes you on a 2.5 hour journey that includes six underground zip lines and a trained tour guide to tell you all about the geology and history. If you're feeling competitive be sure to try the Mega Quest, a fully underground aerial ropes challenge course. But be sure to check the age and height requirements if you're bringing your kids!

Even if you've never been to Louisville, you know that it's the home of the Kentucky Derby. While the Derby itself is still a few weeks away, there are so many events leading up to it that are worth checking out. Not the least of which is Thunder Over Louisville, which is taking place on April 21st. This marks the 29th year for Thunder Over Louisville, which is the largest annual pyrotechnics display in North America. This year's theme is "A Disco Thunder," so you know what to expect from the musical score!

While the fireworks are the main event, there's also plenty to keep you busy while you're waiting for the big show. Choose from more than 115 food vendors and check out the Meijer Family Fun Zone, which includes bounce houses, face painting, photo opportunities and more! Admission is free with a 2018 Pegasus Pin, which can be purchased at area banks, pharmacies, supermarkets and gas stations, to name a few. The fun goes from 11am through 11pm at Waterfront Park.

TOURNAMENT FIELD HIGHLIGHTS

• Returning Champions

-Austin Vukovits, Fishers, Indiana – Vukovits returns to the tournament after shooting rounds of 72-72-70 for a tournament total of 1-over-par 214. The win was his first AJGA victory.

-Kelly Sim, Edgewater, New Jersey – Sim returns to the tournament after shooting rounds of 73-71-73 for a tournament total of 7-over-par 217. The win was her fifth AJGA victory.

• Notable players to watch

-Rachel Kuehn, Asheville, North Carolina – Kuehn is No. 24 in the Rolex AJGA Rankings. She is the highest-ranked player in the field. She has steadily climbed through the rankings since her first win at the AJGA Junior All-Star at Spring Valley in 2016. In 2017 she finished second at the Strategic Communications / Justin Thomas Junior Championship presented by Phocus and won the Billy Horschel Junior Championship presented by Zurich, CVS Health and Wyndham Rewards.

-Noah Gillard, Greenwood, Indiana – Gillard is the highest-ranked boy in the tournament at No. 37 in the Rolex AJGA Rankings. He is looking for his first AJGA win, but in 2017 he took home first at the Bubba Conlee National Junior and finished T7 at the Boys Junior PGA Championship. He also finished T6 in this event in 2017.

LOUISVILLE

For a fun family outing, look no further than the Louisville Zoo. Currently exhibiting over 1,500 animals on 134 acres, the habitats include Glacier Run, Africa, Islands, New World Exhibits, Australian Outback, HerpAquarium and the Metazoo Education Center. The zoo also features a splash park, ZooTram Shuttle, Zoo trains, rope courses, camel rides and more! April 21st is Education Day at the zoo, where you can learn about endangered species and how to help animals in need.

If you prefer your family fun to be indoors, check out Malibu Jack's where there's something for everyone! You can ride the go karts, play laser tag, or ride the XRider in the 4-D motion theater. If none of those appeal to you, try the bumper cars or spend your time in the arcade winning tickets and prizes. For younger kids, they have the bounce beach play area for kids 10 and under. And if you're not burned out on golf, there's an 18-hole mini-golf course!

Prudential

HEATING & AIR CONDITIONING

Prudential is a proud sponsor of the Strategic Communications Justin Thomas Junior Championship presented by Phocus.

In a weekend full of golf, do you want more sports? If the answer is yes, you have three chances to see the Louisville Bats play at Louisville Slugger Field.

Catch them play Syracuse on either the 21st or 22nd at 2 PM

or

the Charlotte game on the 23rd at 6:30 PM.

The stadium includes 30 private suites, second-level club seating, a continuous concourse around the field, an outfield seating berm, concessions, and a children's play area.

As an added bonus, you can stop by the Louisville Slugger Museum and have a bat made with your name on it!

WHEN YOU NEED TO SOLVE TOUGH IRRIGATION PROBLEMS

When the AJGA needed results in raising money, they reached out to Justin Thomas -- someone at the top of his game who also has ties to the local community. When golf courses need results in solving tough irrigation problems cost-effectively, they reach out to ISCO for the same reasons. Over 30 years ago, ISCO installed the worlds' first HDPE golf irrigation system, and they've been setting the standard ever since. All from their headquarters right here in Louisville.

As a company with a proud history of golf, thank you for supporting the AJGA.
